The method `Integer.parseInt` throws the `NumberFormatException` if the string parameter does not represent an integer value. Write a method that keeps asking the user for an integer as long as an invalid value is provided. You should catch the `NumberFormatException` and add any code needed to keep asking the user for a value.