Abraham Doris-Down
HCI 2nd year Master’s Student
Master’s Project:

Political Blend

Problem: The Internet and other modern media technologies, such as cable, smart phones, and others have made it easier and easier for us to inadvertently place ourselves in echo chambers. This can cause a break down in communications, communities and civility.

Solution: A mobile optimized web based application designed connections by encouraging people of different beliefs to get together out in the world to have a cup of coffee together. Interactions like these can combat the echo chamber effect and help build stronger, healthy communities.

Special Thanks to: Eric Gilbert, Husayn Versee, and Abhinav Narian