

Open Problems Column
Edited by William Gasarch

Request for Columns!

I invite any reader who has knowledge of some area to contact me and arrange to write a column about open problems in that area. That area can be (1) broad or narrow or anywhere in between, and (2) really important or really unimportant or anywhere in between.

This Issue's Column!

This issue's Open Problem Column is:

The Muffin Problem

By William Gasarch, Scott Huddleston, Erik Metz, Jacob Prinz

The observant reader may have noticed that Lane Hemaspaandra's Complexity Theory Column also features an article on The Muffin Problem by William Gasarch, Scott Huddleston, Erik Metz, Jacob Prinz. For this issue of SIGACT News we are merging both columns. So see The Complexity Theory Column for background and open problems about The Muffin Problem!